

Marvin K. Hart, formerly Assemblyman from Onondaga county, N. Y., is to make an attacking Western trip had been prepared by the Republican Congressional Committee, to travel to the State Convention at Albany, N. Y., on the 25th. He replied, "My speeches on that trip will represent myself entirely, and nobody else."

Would you consider what happened on Tuesday night, when the "Colonel" replied with a loud laugh.

No Reply Made.—No disposition has been shown here as yet to make an informal or unofficial reply to the stories that recently have come from Onondaga, N. Y., telling of a serious break between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt. The President and Mr. Taft absolutely refuse to discuss the matter, either officially or unofficially. There is a general belief in Albany, however, that Colonel Roosevelt's attitude, if it has been correctly reported, is based on an extreme impression and misunderstanding of the facts. It is also believed here that a better feeling will soon result.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

A resolution expressing regret at the attempt on the life of Mayor Gaylor and of his special recovery was adopted by a rising vote.

For these vacation days if your wardrobe needs a little touch, just touch us.

Here are the "summery suits" with a good bit off the price.

Special trousers in fancy flannel, a dollar or so less than usual.

Every department has some special bargains—Hats—Shoes—Shirts—Hose.

Convention Date Fixed.—Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—By unanimous vote the Democratic State Committee decided here to-night to hold the next Democratic State Convention at Rochester, September 20.

ACADEMY CADETS DRANK MILK PUNCH

Court-Martial Recommended Dismissal of Four Guilty Seniors.

PRESIDENT MORE LENIENT Confines Men to Barracks Until Next March, With Extra Duty Tours.

New York, August 19.—Four West Point cadets, all members of the first or senior class at the Military Academy, who have been on trial before a general court-martial for several weeks past, charged with drinking a milk punch, have been found guilty and their dismissal from the academy recommended to the President. The papers were submitted to the President by Adjutant-General Almsworth, and the President, after reading the evidence, approved the sentence and then commuted it to what is perhaps the severest punishment not involving dismissal in the history of the academy.

The cadets who were proved to have partaken of the punch and all of whom are effected by the President's review of the case are Wilfrid Mason Byrne, of Maryland; Charles Laurence Byrne, of Washington, D. C.; Harry James Keefe, of Ohio; and Batholomew Simpson, of Michigan. Blunt and Byrne are sons of retired officers, while Simpson's father is Major Wendell L. Simpson, who is on duty at the Army Building in Whitehall Street, this city.

Colony Byrne, the father of another of the cadets, is an ex-surgeon general of the Department of the East, on Governor's Island.

The predicament into which the cadets set themselves was the result of a little celebration they got up when they became first classmen last June. Nobody knows how they got the whiskey that was dropped into the punch; neither is it known how the quart of milk that was another of the principal ingredients was smuggled into barracks.

Rumor has it, however, that "some key friend" brought in the stuff that made all the trouble.

Drastic Regulations.—There is no regulation of the academy that is more drastic than the one relating to intoxicating drinks, the punishment for drinking or having intoxicating drinks, and the punishment for drinking or having intoxicating drinks, and the punishment for drinking or having intoxicating drinks.

The recipe for the punch was two quarts of milk, a pint of rum whiskey, two grated nutmegs, half a cup of sugar, two lemons, and the skin of one orange. The name of the cadet who made it was not made public, but the impression in the Hudson Highlands is that it tasted good. None of the cadets drank much of the punch, for the good reason that there was not a sufficient quantity on hand for more than two drinks for those who congregated in that darkened room the night in question. There was no hilarity connected with the making of the punch, and nobody would probably have ever heard of it had not First Lieutenant Benjamin E. Grey, Twenty-first United States Infantry, who was the officer in charge that night, in the course of the evening made a tour of the barracks.

Up to the moment that Lieutenant Grey began that inspection, which was to have such disastrous results for four of the cadets who were in the room where the punch was, there had not been a drop of whiskey in the barracks building for more than five years, and great was Grey's surprise when he entered the room, and whiffed some of the punch. He reminded him of the gilded drinking palaces of Broadway.

"What's this?" asked Grey, drawing in another long breath. There was a scurrying of feet, and several of the cadets were turned on only six cadets remained in the room. Two of them were able to prove that they had not tasted the punch, and the other four were in the dismissal recommendations that were sent to President Taft a few days ago.

Before Court-Martial.—Lieutenant Grey ordered the cadets to retire to their cots for the night, and the next morning the matter was officially brought to the attention of Colonel Scott, the superintendent, who, under the regulations, was compelled to bring all of the accused before a general court-martial, the court in this case being one of the largest in point of numbers that has ever sat at West Point. There were thirteen members, in addition to Lieutenant Grey, who was the judge advocate who presided over the case. The court was composed of:

- Captain Ora E. Hunt, Thirtieth Infantry.
- Captain Thomas W. Darrah, Twenty-seventh Infantry.
- Captain George B. Pillsbury, Corps of Engineers.
- Captain Otto V. Kean, Ordnance Department.
- First Lieutenant Richard M. Thomas, Fifteenth Cavalry.
- First Lieutenant William D. A. Anderson, Corps of Engineers.
- First Lieutenant George R. Allen, Sixth Field Artillery.
- First Lieutenant William Bryden, Fifth Field Artillery.
- First Lieutenant Benjamin H. L. Williams, Coast Artillery Corps.
- First Lieutenant Forrest E. Willford, Coast Artillery Corps.
- First Lieutenant Samuel M. Parker, Twentieth Infantry.
- Second Lieutenant Henry E. Mitchell, Third Cavalry.
- Second Lieutenant Frederick W. Manley, Thirtieth Infantry.
- First Lieutenant Harry S. Grier, Twenty-second Infantry, judge advocate.

For weeks the hearing lasted and scores of cadets were called as witnesses. On only four, however, could the court fasten guilt, and these four were recommended for dismissal. President Taft, when he got the papers a few days ago, gave them careful study and then decided that dismissal was a little too severe, and so he figured out a punishment which he thought would not carry with it a dismissal from the academy.

ABRUZZI WILL WIN, HIS FRIENDS SAY

Have Never Admitted Things Were All Over Between Him and Miss Elkins.

HINTS OF HIS INTENTION Has Been Getting His Finances in Order and Is Making Various Changes in His Palace.

Rome, August 19.—Italians are diligently seeking for what grain of truth there may be in the rumor that Duke of the Abruzzi, who has been friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

SEVEN MEN START IN 24-HOUR RACE

Matheson Car in Accident, and Stearnes Car Again Resumes Lead.

Brighton Beach, N. Y., August 19.—Under the glare of the electric lights, which shone while on the high-backed cement track, seven drivers took their lives in their hands on the Brighton Beach Motoromobile again to-night, in another twenty-four-hour automobile race, the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The contesting cars, with drivers and alternate, followed:

- Car No. 1, Allen Kingston; Noel Trekkas, driver; Harry Cobb, alternate.
- Car No. 2, Marlon; Walley Owen, driver; Joe Taylor, alternate.
- Car No. 4, Houghton; Stan Martin, driver; Al Pool, alternate.
- Car No. 6, Cole; Bill Edcott, driver; Louis Edwards, alternate.
- Car No. 7, L. Anderson, driver; Joe Taylor, alternate.
- Car No. 8, Matheson; Charles Balas, driver; C. P. Whalen, alternate.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

The track record, which was broken in the first sixty minutes of the race by the Stearnes, which covered fifty-seven miles. The best previous record on the track, six miles, was made by the Buick and Fiat cars last October.

The 10:30, or second hour's score: Stearnes, 104; Cole, 97; Midland, 97; Marlon, 91; Allen Kingston, 83; Houghton, 82.

ABRUZZI WILL WIN, HIS FRIENDS SAY

Have Never Admitted Things Were All Over Between Him and Miss Elkins.

HINTS OF HIS INTENTION Has Been Getting His Finances in Order and Is Making Various Changes in His Palace.

Rome, August 19.—Italians are diligently seeking for what grain of truth there may be in the rumor that Duke of the Abruzzi, who has been friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

"The duke is a very strong character, and it is not safe to say that he has up to the present, proved himself to be what the French call 'grande passion,' and when he is determined on anything he always gets it."

There are considerable number of friends of the duke who have never admitted that things were all over between the two, as although the duke speaks in connection with one, they think they know his character well enough to judge what he would do in given circumstances. One who talks to him almost daily says:

A CABLE AD EVERY DAY Piano Hospital

Just as you are preparing to move or to go to the country, the seaside, the mountains or abroad, don't overlook sending your piano to our Piano Hospital, where it can be repaired, parts renewed, case revamped, ebonized or mahoganyed. We will attend to these things, store it, and when you return, send your piano back to you practically a new instrument, for only a few dollars' expense.

As a matter of fact, the money will prove an investment by the added value to the piano.

Phone Mad. 2734.

Cable Piano Co.

213 East Broad.

EVERYTHING MUSICAL

Campbell died at her home in this city, after a short illness, at the age of sixty-seven years. She is survived by four sons—Alfonso Campbell, of Richmond; James Campbell, of Greenville; John and Walter Campbell, of this city, and three daughters—Mrs. E. Haynes, of Richmond; Mrs. Luther Page, of Richmond; and Mrs. C. T. Shepherd, of South River. Several grandchildren also survive.

The funeral services will be conducted Sunday by Rev. Nathan M. Ward, of the Baptist Church, of which she was a member.

Mrs. Campbell was before marriage a Miss Vance and was a native of Buckingham county.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Bristol, Va., August 19.—Mrs. Laura Venable, of Bristol, was advised by telegram to-day of the death of her mother, Oscar Miles, a prominent lawyer of Richmond, who died at the age of seventy-five years, and was a brother of the late Professor George W. Miles, of the University of Virginia.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Bristol, Va., August 19.—Mrs. Alice Berry, of Bristol, died at 12:30 o'clock last night at the residence of her son-in-law, J. S. Persinger, on Union Street, aged seventy-three years. The remains were taken to Richmond, where interment will be made in Hollywood Saturday afternoon.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Rice Depot, Va., August 19.—Mrs. Nannie Bradshaw, widow of W. E. Bradshaw, died at her home here this morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by two daughters and a son. Her husband was a native of Loudoun county. He was a Confederate veteran.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Alexandria, Va., August 19.—John W. Burson, seventy years old, died this morning at his home, 607 Ormeau Street, after a long illness. His wife and two daughters survive. He was a native of Loudoun county. He was a Confederate veteran.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Alexandria, Va., August 19.—The funeral of Mrs. Nannie Bradshaw, widow of W. E. Bradshaw, died at her home here this morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by two daughters and a son. Her husband was a native of Loudoun county. He was a Confederate veteran.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Stanton, Va., August 19.—William H. Price, who was prominent in Masonry for a long time, died yesterday after a long illness, aged fifty-two years, leaving a wife.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Stanton, Va., August 19.—Mrs. Mary H. Price, ninety-three years of age, died last night. She was the widow of George Price.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Schutte—Died, August 19, 1910, at 6 A. M., at her residence in Chesterfield, MARY ELIZABETH SCHUTTE, in the sixty-sixth year of her age. She leaves her husband and the following children: L. H. Schutte, B. H. Schutte, A. G. Schutte, John Traser, Mrs. George Krimm, Mrs. George Klinker, of Philadelphia, and Miss Madeline Schutte, and one sister—Mrs. Richard Schutte.

Funeral from St. Mary's Catholic Church at 4 P. M. SUNDAY, August 21, 1910. Interment in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Philadelphia. Washington and Newport News papers please copy.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Linwood Robertson, died at his home on West Cary Street last night after a lingering illness. He is survived by his wife and three children, also by his mother, several brothers and sisters. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Martinsville, Va., August 19.—Judge R. G. Mullins, a prominent member of the Martinsville bar and president of the People's Bank, died at his home here early this morning after an illness of several weeks. He was eighty years old, and death was caused by nervous prostration with complications. He is survived by his wife, who was a native of this county, and the following children: Misses Annie, Nellie, Sadie and Marion Mullins, Martinsville; and a son, John Mullins, who leaves one brother, Dr. Peter Mullins, of Fairfax county, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. John Gravelly, of Martinsville.

Judge Mullins was elected county judge of Henry county in 1885, filling that position with credit and honor for twenty years. He retired from the bench January 1, 1888, since which time he has engaged actively in the practice of law here. The funeral will be held here to-morrow afternoon.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Helen M. Durett, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mattie Durett, in this city, died this morning at 11 o'clock after an extended illness, at the age of sixty-four. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Durett, of Martinsville, and several grandchildren. Her husband has been dead several years. Mrs. Durett was a native of Nelson county and was married to North Garden, Va. Her marriage was a Miss Carr. She will be taken to North Garden, and the funeral service will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Durett, of the Baptist Church, of Charlottesville, of which the deceased was a member.

Special to The Times-Dispatch.—Buena Vista, Va., August 19.—Mrs. Mary Campbell, wife of the late Mr. Campbell, died at her home here this morning after a long illness. She is survived by two daughters and a son. Her husband was a native of Loudoun county. He was a Confederate veteran.